18TH DISTRICT IS M'CULLOCH STRONGHOLD

Five Counties in Southeastern Ohio Well Organized for Senator.

BACKED BY DRY FORGES

Industrial Centers Also Lined Up for Legislator's Re-election.

BY JOSEPH K. VODREY
Staff Correspondent for The Star

STEUBENVILLE Oct 25—Southeastern Ohio—the wire stretch of five counties in the 18th congressional district is one of the real McCulloch strongholds in the state From the rural sections which rally to McCulloch because of his dryness to the industrial Ohio riverfront which backs him for his tariff stand, there is a unanimity of support for the return of Ohio's junior senator to Washington

Probably no part of the state is more thoroughly and more consistently Republican than that embraced within Jefferson Columbiana, Belmont Harrison and Carroll counties This district has elected Frank Murphy of Steubenville five times as U S representative and now it is ready to give him, for the sixth time a large lead over his Democratic opponent, who this time happens to be Emerson Campbell of St Clairsville Belmont Republicans are confident that Murphy will carry even the home county of his opponent.

G. O. P. Well Organized

A tour of the 18th district impresses an observer with one outstanding fact, that the Republicans are thoroughly conscious of the advantages of organization. Particularly is this true of the women Under the direction of Mrs. Ila Marshall Cronin of East Liverpool, state central committeewoman, an organization has been perfected to function in every precinct in this district From two to eight workers are listed from each precinct In a number of counties notably Belmont, meetings are held regularly to advance the McCulloch, Cooper Murphy cause Never before has the district been so thoroughly organized as at the present time Republican leaders state In addition to the county organizations workers appointed from Columbus are pushing the McCulloch Cooper fight Practically every church in the district has a committee working to further the dry cause

Cadiz Proud of Dryness

These rural communities take their dryness with all the seriousness that its benefits mean to them At Cadiz Harrison county seat and home of Rupert Beetham, state prohibition director, pride is

SERIES OF GANGLAND MURDERS EXPECTED

Police Look for Attempt on Life of "Bugs" Moran by Capone Group.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 25—The assassination of Joe Aiello, wealthy "alcohol king" and foe of Alfonse Capone, was viewed by police today as a possible forerunner for further slayings in Chicago's gangland.

Belief was expressed by them that George (Bugs) Moran, reputed partner of Aiello, who was shot down from ambush on the north west side last Thursday night may be the next target of machine gun bullets

In this connection the Chicago Herald and Examiner said today that Aiello's death, "halted a well organized plot to slay Al Capone" The newspapers added that the police had been informed that one of the conspirators, believing the plot would fail, "tipped off" a Capone henchman, and the killing of Aiello followed

While the police were in the midst of their investigation of the Aiello death John Alcock, acting police commissioner, made good his threat of a month ago to give the department a "shaking up" by ordering the transfer of two captains and 91 other officers

DOWNPOUR OF RAIN DRENCHES WEDDING PARTY

Storm Only Happening Tending To Mar Notable Ceremony in Italy.

CEREMONY IS DELAYED

Numerous European Dignitaries Attend Nuptials of Boris and Giovanna.

By The Associated Press

ASSISI, ITALY, Oct 25 With their own gay wedding attire and that of their party drenched by rain and hail Princess Giovanna of Italy and Czar Boris III of Bulgaria were married today in the upper basilica of the Church of St Francis here before a gathering of kings, princes and some of the most notable folk of Europe Giovanna is 23 years old and her husband 37

The marriage ceremony was brief but impressive The low mass which was scheduled to follow the ceremony was omitted at the last moment and no mass at all was said for the couple one of whom is a Roman Catholic and the other, Boris a member of the orthodox, or Greek Catholic church

Had the wedding been held at 10 a m as had been planned, it would have passed off without unpleasant incident and the storm which blew up just before 11 would have found the entire party at the Villa Constanzi, safely beneath roofs for the wedding breakfast. As it was the three royal trains bearing the wedding party from Pisa arrived nearly an hour and a half late and as Princess Giovanna, attired in beautiful white, stepped from her coach onto the red carpeted platform, a heavy drizzle commenced

Bride Caught in Rain

Closed cars were substituted for the open tonneaus it had been planned to use for the drive along the streets lined with troops to the church At the basilica's portal an umbrella was held out for Giovanna, but a sudden burst of rain caught her and wet her dress badly

So great was the congestion of motor cars about the church that others, including some of the highest royal figures of Europe were not afforded even this protection and many were drenched By the time Boris arrived at the church the rain had turned to hail and he and his suite were badly battered

Inside the church the bridal party had difficulty in forming for the march down the center aisle of the historic edifice to the altar but after some delay this was done and while the vestri choir of 120 voices sang the stirring Latin invocation "O Lord Make Safe Our King"

Father Riesa custodian of the basilica read the marriage ceremony, which was brief in keeping with a union in matrimony of a Roman Catholic and a non-Roman Catholic The ceremony itself was possible only by special dispensation of the pope, who ruled that

Plenty of Talk

(Will Rogers Special)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal, Oct 25—Every paper every morning tells of a big gathering of prominent men who have spoken on "better times."

If chambers of commerce give some worker a job instead of some speaker a dinner there would be no unemployment.

There has been more "optimism" talked and less practiced than at any time during our history. Every millionaire we have, has offered a speech instead of keeping still, and offering a job.

Our optimism is all at a banquet table, where everybody there has more than they can eat.

REORGANIZATION START

Revolutionary Junta Lovers To Restore Peace in Brazil.

By The Associated Press

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 25— The revolutionary Junta which yesterday overthrew the government of President Washington Luis set about today to reorganize the political structure and restore peace throughout Brazil

The Junta, composed principally of General Menna Barreto, General Leite Castro, General Tasso Fragoso and Admiral Isaias Noronha, planned a meeting as soon as possible to form a cabinet

It is understood that Octavio Manabeira, foreign minister of the late government, will be a member of the new ministry

Part of Showing

Also on the junta's program are the dissolution of congress, the calling of a special congress to revise the constitution, new regulations for military service, the establishment of a secret ballot, obligatory education and uniformity in taxes

The armed conflict which has raged on three major fronts for the last three weeks was stilled, momentarily, but a situation still prevailed which charged with the tenseness of rival political personalities may plunge the nation into further sanguinary internecine conflict

Meanwhile, dispatches from headquarters of the southern revolutionary army, located at Ponta Grossa, State of Parana, said that Getulio Vargas, the rebel southern army generalissimo, president of the state of Rio Grande Do Sul, and defeated nationalist presidential candidate in the recent elections, would take charge of the provisional government

Luis Held Prisoner

Dr Washington Luis today was a prisoner in Forn Capobanca After holding out for hours against resignation with the words that he would be taken from Guanabra palace only when he had been bound hand and foot he consented late yesterday to the military junta's demands, and was taken under heavy guard to the quarters of the general staff at the fort where he will remain temporarily

There is little apparent animosity toward the deposed president, who generally was regarded as honest in his convictions, but surrounded with a military and official family which many in the nation found objectionable.

TEACHER COST LOWER HERE

School Dollar Expenditure Explained; Only One City Reports Less.

LEVY LEADING FACTOR

Provides 40 Per Cent of Revenue; 80 Out of 90 Districts Face Same Problem.

Editor's Note—Because it is absolutely essential for the good of the community and the future of its young people that Marion's public school system be maintained unimpaired, The Star is wholeheartedly in favor of the three-mill tax levy for school operations which is to come before the voters in November. This levy has been in effect over a period of years and as a consequence its continuance will not increase the total city tax rate. For the purpose of explaining the great importance of voters supporting the levy proposal, a series of articles dealing with the schools' requirements will appear in these columns. One of the series follows.

Expenditures for instruction, the major item of current expenses for the operation of Marion schools, are comparatively lower than in many other Ohio cities of the same class School Superintendent George A Bowman pointed out today in discussing the need for renewal of the three-mill school levy on which voters will ballot Nov. 4

Instruction costs 77 cents of each current expense dollar, while operation of school plants takes up 13 3 cents The remainder of the expenses is divided as follows general control, 39 cents; fixed charges, 2 8 cents, maintenance of school plants, 2 3 cents, and auxiliary agencies and coordinate activities, 7 cent

Other Costs Low

"While more than three-fourths of the dollar is used for payment of the educational employes and for provision of instructional supplies," Bowman declared, "the proportionate amount is larger because our expenditures for other purposes are less than is the more general practice among city school districts

"That our expenditures for instruction are comparatively lower may be gained from a table in which the cities are arranged from

To Everyone In Marion:

When I sat down to write an ad on "UP THE RIVER," I was puzzled as to what words to use in order to tell you people of Marion what a great comedy knockout this picture really is. It is beyond my power as an advertiser to find words that can express this picture.

Measured by chuckles, chortles and roars the sky is the limit. One of the reviewers at it's preview showing in the east tried to count the number of laughs, and really folks, he wore out the clicker, and had a blister on his thumb before the final reel was over.

For rowdy, rough and ready wit, for quick getaway and quick come-back, "UP THE RIVER" is the season's best.

Folks I'll stake my reputation as a critic of pictures on this one and will guarantee it to you for cracker jack entertainment.

Yours for a good time,

RIVALS RENEW YEARLY GRIDIRON FEUD

PRESIDENTS CLASH WITH BUCYRUS TEAM ON REDMEN'S FIELD

Talbott To Lead Redman Attack; Harding May Use Aerial Offense.

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor, The Star

IN a fifth effort to annex a grid victory for the current season Harding High's Presidents clash with the Bucyrus Redmen on the Bucyrus field this afternoon. As far as this particular game goes it will have little bearing on who wins the championship of the scholastic circuit. It will have a lot of bearing though on who finishes the season in the lowest standing in the league. Just at present Harding can claim the position without threat of dispute. Bucyrus and Shelby are both a notch above, each with exactly no victories to their credit this year. Bucyrus is slightly better perhaps or it might be termed by some worse. The Redmen have engaged in two games, losing one and tieing the other. Shelby has engaged in one league encounter and was defeated in that. Harding has played two league games and been beaten in both of them.

A battle royal is in prospect for today as the principals of the game are arch rivals and each would rather beat the other than any single team in the league.

PROBABLE LINEUP FOR TODAY'S GAME

Harding	Pos.	Bucyrus
Newby	L. E.	Papointe
Ling	L. T.	Shaffer
Eckenbar'r	L. G.	Miller
Williams	C.	Oberlander
Jevas	R. G.	Paxton
Smith	R. T.	McMillen
Alspach	R. E.	Seele
Houseworth	Q. B.	Talbot
Wright	H. B.	Clady
Bush	H. B.	Krotz
Clay	F. B.	Pope

Bucyrus will be led in its attack by Talbott, sterling quarterback, Miller a guard and Oberlander, the pivot man of the team. Miller is frequently called back into the backfield to skirt the ends.

Talbott at Quarter

Talbott will probably prove the most potent offensive threat for the Bucyrus team. Last year his speed and elusiveness enabled him to lead his team mates to an 18 to 0 victory over the Harding gridders and his work thus far this season has been brilliant enough to presage a lot of trouble for Harding today.

The game today will probably not see so very much of the bone crushing type of football. Neither team has a line crashing fullback to smash the line although Junior Clay, recently shifted to that post from left tackle for Harding may give Bucyrus some trouble to keep him from splitting the Redmen's line. His drives at the line are probably no more vicious than those of his predecessor, Houseworth, but they carry more power due to about 40 pounds difference in weight. It may be possible though that Clay will start at tackle and Houseworth will be at the fullback post.

May Take to Air

With Bush back in the lineup to flip the pigskin, Harding is expected to take to the air today to quite an extent. Bush has been doing some nice passing to date and Harding should be able to advance the ball with some degree of success by this method. Clay also may do some passing but Bush will probably do most of it. Lateral passes may also play a part in the offensive tactics of Harding. They have proven a good ground gainer for the Presidents in other games.

Dick Wright may be able to elude enough enemy tacklers to turn in some neat runs for Harding before the fourth period is completed. Wright has done some first class ball carrying for Harding this season although as is the case with all the Harding ballotters he has been unable to click so well when within the 20 yard lines.

Harding's chief problem today seems to resolve into one thing: its ability to gain when the goal is within striking distance. In both N. C. O. games played this year the locals have been able to advance the ball on even terms with the opposition until the 20 yard stripe was reached. After that the attack nearly always faltered and the opponents gained possession of the ball. The Presidents think they have this fault largely remedied through several shifts in the lineup. The game today will be the only way to test this theory.

Not a member of the West Point football team this season chose No. 12 jersey, the numeral made famous by "Red" Cagle, great back.

VARIETY OF BATTLES ON SCHEDULE TODAY

Pitt-Irish Game Tops Midwest List; East Has Stellar Attractions.

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25 — More than 73,000 football fans — the largest crowd since the arena gates were thrown open in 1925 — will pack into the big concrete stadium on the hill overlooking the University of Pittsburgh today to see the Pitt Panthers do battle with the Irish of Notre Dame.

One hundred and twenty five thousand tickets could have been sold, officials said as they turned back a last-minute rush for seats that were not available.

Pitt awaits the kickoff hampered by injuries, but it was believed all the casualties would be in the starting lineup. The Rocknemen reported "in the pink."

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 25 — The green but fighting football team of the University of Illinois faced Michigan today determined to remove some of the sting of the overwhelming defeat administered a week ago by Northwestern.

Man for man the Illini appeared to be no match for the Wolverines, although the latter are minus the services of three regulars. Roddy Cox and Norm Daniels, ends, and Harvard Auer, tackle, were considered unfit for service because of injuries.

With fair and moderate weather predicted more than 75,000 persons were expected to see the game.

Michigan and Illinois have met on the gridiron 15 times since 1898. The Wolverines have won ten games and Illinois five.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—Half a dozen sectors of the eastern football front today had stellar attractions.

Notre Dame and Pittsburgh, both undefeated and untied, caused a sell-out for the first time since the Pitt stadium was built.

The Yale bowl was the site of a colorful battle between Army's unbeaten Cadets and Yale.

A strictly metropolitan duel between New York university and Fordham made the Yankee stadium a mecca for close to 80,000 fans.

Other features were the clash of Dartmouth's triumphant Indians and Harvard at the Harvard stadium; the Princeton-Navy joust at Princeton; the Penn State-Colgate clash at State college; an all-Philadelphia duel between Temple and Villanova; the Brown-Holy Cross combat-pence, and the night game in the Atlantic City auditorium between Washington and Jefferson and Lafayette.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25—A pair of battles of Big Ten championship significance today headed up an unusually quiet midwestern football day.

Wisconsin's record was more impressive than Purdue's but the Boilermakers, desperate and stronger in man power than at any time this season, promised Glenn Thistlethwaite's Badgers a strenuous afternoon.

Chicago and Northwestern were pitted against intersectional adversaries from the south while Indiana was the Big Ten's invading force. The Hoosiers were at Dallas, Tex., praying for a "norther" to give them their own kind of football weather against Southern Methodist university and hoped to spring a surprise on Ray Morrison's forward passing adepts.

Chicago scented its first major victory of the season—at the expense of the University of Mississippi.

The undefeated Wildcats, with a big array of reserves in its proposed starting lineup, still was an almost prohibitive favorite over Centre college.

Minnesota, with a victory in its single Big Ten start, Ohio State, twice defeated in conference competition, and Iowa, loser of its one and only Big Ten test of the season, had open dates.

• • •

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 25—Seventy-five thousand spectators made their way toward the Yale bowl today to watch the thirtieth football duel between the unbeaten Army and Yale.

Despite Yale's defeat by Georgia the Elis were close to an even choice against the Cadets who have won four games in a row, the last from Harvard. Army, with a veteran line and three new backs in Letzelter, Fields and Herb, hoped for revenge for the 21-13 beating it took a year ago. Albie Booth, whose spectacular playing in that game enabled the Ellis to overcome a 13-0 deficit, starts at quarterback today.

GRIDDERS DISMISSED UPON WAGE DEMAND

George Washington U. Loses Promising Freshmen as Boys Ask Pay.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—George Washington university today was minus six of its best freshmen football players, who were let out yesterday for demanding free room and board so the earnings from their jobs could be kept as spending money. Six more are under investigation.

The boys were dismissed from the squad by James W. Pixlee, director of athletics. Later, after failing to obtain honorable dismissal from President Cloyd H. Marvin, they announced they had withdrawn from the university.

A game which was to have been played tonight with the Georgetown freshmen—the high spot of the first year team's season—was cancelled. Pixlee said the boys had intended presenting their demands just before this game but he had been forewarned and had brought matters to an earlier climax.

Acting as a spokesman for the dismissed players, Charles Robinson, of Newark, N. J., issued a statement saying they had come to the university "on scholarships with the understanding that if we played football they would take care of us.

The players had held jobs as waiters in the dining halls and also at filling stations and a garage and night watchmen. They received no wages, their earnings being applied toward the board and tuition expenses.

RELEASE TWO CATCHERS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—The New York Yankees have released two catchers, Ben Bengough, veteran receiver who has been troubled with a sore arm, was sent to the Milwaukee club of the American Association. Bubbles Hargrave, who came here from St. Paul last spring, was released unconditionally.

JOCKEY SUSPENDED

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 25—Jockey J. W. Frye has been suspended indefinitely and the stewards at Hawthorne have recommended that his license be revoked by the Illinois Turf Association. The action was taken after the second race in which Elizabeth Sullivan, the winner, was disqualified because of Frye's roughriding.

RINNERT TO CAPTAIN

Joe Rinnert of Marion, a guard on the Ohio Wesleyan football team was named yesterday by Coach George Gauthier to captain the Ohio Wesleyan team in its game today against the Simpson college team. This is the first game in which Rinnert has been named acting captain.

"Sugar" Sweetland, southpaw hurler now owned by the Cubs, was unable to win for the Phillies last season, he says, due to the mental hazard of the short rightfield fence at Philadelphia ball park.

IF confidence in themselves is enough to win today Harding High has already chalked up its first victory of the season over the Bucyrus Redmen. Coach Bohyer's men can't see anything but a Harding victory which is no doubt the proper method of looking at the game. Victories aren't won by squads which are beaten before the game starts.

Apparently the team personnel as a whole today is in better physical condition than at any time for the last several weeks. Dick Morgan is the only man out at present although Sloan is not in tip-top shape. Neither will start but both may get into the game before the final period. Morgan's services will be short today though, for he is not altogether recovered from a cracked rib received in scrimmage some time ago.

Bohyer had almost decided at a late hour last night to shift Houseworth from the fullback post to the quarterback position. He will not call signals, however, that responsibility being entrusted to Bush the regular field general. Bush will go to one wingback with Wright at the other. Clay will start at fullback and Jack Ling will start his first game of the year, that at tackle.

It looks like Bohyer has made a good move to get all the possible strength out of his players. The addition of Clay to the backfield will provide no little trouble to the Bucyrus team while Houseworth's being left in the backfield will give Harding two backs that can hit the line. Clay is also good at sliding off tackle. Just so there will be no one to have an opportunity to say that we are not just as confident of the victory today as is the team, here it is: Harding will win today but not by a large score. On to Bucyrus:

So far this season we haven't taken the space to name any list of probable winners for games other than those played in the N. C. O. circuit. Feeling that this practice is not leaving us open to enough laughs and knowing that the sports populace thrives on this business of giving predicting sports editors the ha-ha here is a list of some of the big games with our choices to win.

Notre Dame to beat Pitt; Wisconsin to beat Purdue; Michigan to beat Illinois; Chicago to beat Mississippi; Yale to beat Army; Southern Methodist to beat Indiana; Dartmouth to beat Harvard; Princeton to beat Navy; Wesleyan to beat Simpson and Ohio University to defeat Miami. Now everybody, up on the kickoff!

XAVIER UPSETS DOPE TO HAND LUTHERANS ONE-SIDED BEATING

Score Only 13-7, but Wittenberg Never Threatens Except on Long Run.

BY LATHROP MACK
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 25—Xavier university has declared itself in on the award of honors to Ohio's best football teams with a decisive 13 to 7 victory over Wittenberg's disillusioned football team.

Since beating Georgetown college of Kentucky in the first game, Coach Bill Stobbs has not won a game although possessing one of the best squads in Ohio.

Taking a punt on Wittenberg's 40-yard line, Xavier gained 20 yards with forward pass, 16 more with a lateral pass play and then scored on another pass, Kelly to McPhail. Another pass, McDevitt to Kelly scored the second touchdown from 30 yards out after Xavier recovered Plummer's fumble of a punt. "Click" Peterson ran back a kickoff for Wittenberg's only score.

Heidelberg's touchdown machine manufactured nine against University of Toledo in another game, winning 56 to 0. Hank Scaife ran back one kickoff while he, Otto Vokaty, Charley Wilcox and Dwight Haley each scored two touchdowns.

Davis and Elkins had a lot of fun with John Carroll in Cleveland last night, running up a 26 to 7 score with three touchdowns in the last period.

Bowling Green and Findlay apparently left the Northwest conference race in an unremediable muddle by playing a 6 to 6 tie. Neither team had been defeated and the game was supposed to settle their superiority. The Falcons tied the score in the last period after Findlay counted in the first. Barring upsets, the two will share the title.

LUTHERAN STAR

CAPTAIN BILL EDWARDS
WITTENBERG COLLEGE

Bill Edwards, whose fame as a football player at Wittenberg college is only a continuation of his excellent work as a member of Massillon High school team has been awarded the highest honor that can be given any member of the Senior class of the Lutheran school. He is one of five new members of Skull and Chain, honorary group of the final class year in Wittenberg. He was chosen to represent athletics.

Edwards has twice been chosen captain of the Lutheran gridders. This fall he is one of the outstanding players on the Springfield eleven.

Report Page To Become Head Coach at U. of C.

By International News Service

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 25—Reports were current here today to the effect that Pat Page, football coach of Indiana University, will leave at the year's close to become head coach to the University of California in Los Angeles.

Page has been offered the position, it was said here, and will replace Bill Spaulding, who is to remain there as athletic director.

The Chicago White Sox during one series held their opponents scoreless 20 innings.

CONFERENCE HEADS FIND SCHOOL GUILTY OF RULE VIOLATIONS

Two Grid Players Mentioned in Specific Charge Against Western College.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 25—Found guilty of "recruiting and subsidizing" athletes, the University of Kansas today was eliminated from the Big Six conference "beyond this year."

The verdict of guilty of violating the rules of the conference was returned early today after a lengthy meeting of faculty representatives of the six conference members here.

James Bausch, a halfback, who received honorable mention on some of the all-American football teams last year, was the "subsidized" athlete. Phil Borello, former Kansas City high school star, was the "recruited" athlete, while the consensus was that other cases were considered. Bausch and Borello practically had the stage to themselves.

A Kansas State Agricultural college halfback, Bill Meissinger, who is captain-elect of the Aggie baseball team, who, like Bausch, is on the pay-roll of E. H. Lupton, Lawrence and Topeka insurance man, was declared ineligible from further competition by Dr. H. H. King, faculty representative from Manhattan.

Faculty Started Action

Elimination of Kansas was prompted by the action of Dr. W. A. Tarr, Missouri faculty representative, who investigated "Jarring Jim" Bausch and Borello, and then told the other faculty representatives Bausch's case was an "excellent chance to determine whether a man drawing a regular salary was violating the conference rules."

Dr. George H. Shaad, Kansas representative, had no comment after the faculty group had announced its findings.

There was much speculation throughout the Big Six today as to whether Kansas would be given a chance to "clean house" and return to the good graces of the conference.

As the situation stood today, Kansas varsity athletes may compete in all conference games now scheduled, unless individual action is taken by one or more of the schools.

The majors get another "Art Shires" in Dizzy Dean, Texas recruit St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, who already has made engagements with photographers for spring training pictures.

STOCKS RALLY FOR ADVANCES

Friday's Gains Carried Over Into Short Session Today; Steels Lead.

By International News Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—Cheerful news in the stock market instilled by Friday's brilliant advances in the speculative leaders was still in evidence today. New gains of 2 to 3 points were scored by the active industrials and the best prices of the week were recorded for United States Steel, Westinghouse, General Electric and American Can.

A spirit of speculative buying at the outset forced Westinghouse up 3 points to 111, United States Steel to above 152 and American Can to 120½. Further evidence was seen of the lightening of the load of liquidation which has been depressing the markets for the last two weeks and stock market leaders expressed the opinion that underlying conditions in the stock market were excellent.

Weekend business reviews reported a slow and hesitant tone in most lines, with a more pronounced tendency toward improvement in steel manufacturing and building construction.

Profit-taking where appeared in the industrial stocks and rails in the second hour was well absorbed and new forward movements were started by the best grade industrial and utility stocks in narrow and restricted trading. The list was held back by a tapering off in buying demand in the short weekend session.

CROP REPORTS LOWER VALUES

Foreign Estimates React Against Price of Wheat: Corn Drops.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 25—Big crop estimates from Argentina and Australia together with downturns in Liverpool quotations led to early lower prices here today for wheat. Argentina and Australia together were credited with likelihood of a combined exportable wheat surplus this season aggregating 285,000,000 bushels an increase of 145,000,000 bushels over actual shipments during the past season. Opening ½@¾c off, Chicago wheat futures deliveries underwent afterward an additional setback. Corn started unchanged to ¼ cent decline, rallied a little and subsequently sagged again.

Must Create New Dance To Suit Long Dresses

By International News Service

PARIS—Wanted, a new slow dance which suits the new long dresses! This is what dancing professors all over the Continent are looking for. They are all very busy inventing fresh combinations of steps and very soon it is expected to appear—a smooth easy dance which will have something of the rhythm of the fox trot and the charm of the waltz and which, instead of spelling ruin to a long skirt, will show it off to the very best advantage.

RECOUNT NECESSARY OF SCHOOL BALLOTS

Central Junior High School Students Hold Primary for Election.

There was a recount necessary after the primary for school officers at Central Junior High school yesterday. Helen Burns and Dorothy Jean Elliott, vice president candidates, were one vote apart. Dorothy Jean Elliott had 105 votes against Helen Burns 104. She and John Warner were high. Warner polled 181 votes.

Maurice Whitcomb polled 219 and George Mason won 1-9 for president. Two girls will oppose each other in the race for secretary. Jane Myers had 113 votes and Muriel Wise had 125. Rennix Van Scoy polled 150 votes for treasurer and Donald Quaintance was a second with 129 votes.

A big rally will be held at the school Monday morning. Each candidate will make a campaign speech. In the election, on which a tentative date of Nov. 3 has been set, the students will be presented ballots for a vote on the three-mill levy, together with their ballots for school officers.

Kiwanians To Give Party for Women

Frank L. Spicer

Democratic Candidate for County Commissioner

Properly placing the County Commissioners over the county, is one of the things that the voters should consider well. I do not wish to array one part of the county against the other, nor to infer that a commissioner consider just his end of the county alone. But, if we draw an imaginary line north and south across the county about two miles west of the City of Marion, we have west of this line, quite an extensive territory, embracing the townships of Salt Rock, Big Island, Green Camp, Grand, Montgomery and Bowling Green, and representing a heavy tax duplicate. This territory with the exception of one township, has not had a member on the board for a long time. Western Marion County is making no demands, but in all fairness we do believe that this part of the county is entitled to a member on the BOARD of COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

OFFICIALS RECOVER OHIO PEN CLOTH

Bolt of Goods Is Turned Over to Chief Clerk; Guardsman Not Held.

Material allegedly sold to a member of the Marion unit of the Ohio National guard while the guard was assisting in maintenance of martial law at the Ohio penitentiary last spring was turned over to officials of the institution yesterday by local police.

The material consisted of a bolt of cloth used to make suits, officials say. Nearly a bolt of material taken from a prisoner at city prison last week was turned over to W. I. Bishop, chief clerk of the penitentiary.

The material was left at police station last week by a young Marion man after he had been cleared of possible implication in a burglary.

Officials late yesterday had not taken steps to prosecute anyone in connection with the purchase of the stolen material from a prisoner at the penitentiary. Commanding officers of the local national guard units say they failed to find any irregularities when they conducted an investigation of their men here Thursday night.

Bank Clearings Down, Records for Week Show

Bank clearing total for this week were considerably below the total of the preceding week, figures of the National City Bank & Trust Co., clearing house, show.

Total for the six days ending Thursday was $326,453.48, a drop from $376,492.96 reported for the previous week.

The high mark of this week's clearings was reached Wednesday with a figure of $65,497.19 reported. The low mark of the six-day period was Saturday with $42,992.82.

FOUR PERMITS ISSUED

Only four building permits for structures estimated to cost a total of $1,275 were issued in Marion this week. The largest single permit was for remodeling a store at an estimated expenditure of $1,000. The smallest was issued for a $50 garage. Two other garage permits for $75 and $150 respectively, complete the list.

Mrs. P. P. Burnett and Family.*

OBITUARY

Mary Etta, daughter of James E. and Nancy Hopkins Clay, was born in Green Camp township, Marion county, Ohio, Nov. 22, 1865, and departed this life at City Hospital, Marion, at 7:30 p. m. Oct. 8, 1930, aged 64 years, 10 months and 16 days.

She was united in marriage with James Huston Manley, August 29, 1886. To this union six children were born, three having preceded their mother in death. Those living are Mrs. Earl Drake, Agosta, Mrs. Lewis Albert, Marion, and Mrs. Dale Weston, Agosta, the husband and 14 grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends are left to mourn their loss.

Mrs. Manley's illness extended over a period of one and a half years. Her immediate death was the result of sugar diabetes. She was a patient and uncomplaining sufferer, and was ready to go when the summons came, having been converted and united with the Mt. Olive Methodist Episcopal church in early life. For many years, she with her husband and family were among the most faithful and devoted members of that church. And her interest never slackened, though owing to feeble health she was unable to attend the services as in the former years. Mrs. Manley chose for her funeral text, Rev. 22:5 "And there shall be no night there, and they need no candle. Neither light of the sun for the Lord God giveth them light, and they shall reign for ever and ever."

"There Is No Death"

There is no death! The stars go down,
To rise upon some fairer shore;
And bright in Heaven's jeweled crown,
They shine for evermore.
There is no death! The dust we tread
Shall change beneath the summer showers,
To golden grain or mellow fruit,
Or rainbow tinted flowers.
And ever near us, though unseen,
The dear immortal spirits tread,
For all the boundless universe
Is life—there is no dead.

Mail Clerks' Association Enrolls New Members

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rissler were enrolled as members of the Local Railways Mail Clerks' association and auxiliary at a meeting last night with Mr. and Mrs. Eldie Mason of Sheridan road. Mrs. Benjamin Cohen of New York, sister of Mrs. Fred H. Johnson and Miss Goldie Silk of Detroit, Mrs. Johnson's house guest, were guests of the association and auxiliary last night.

Roll call was responded to with pet superstitions. A short business session was held. Contests were in charge of Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Homer Eber and Mr. Rissler. John Luvisi and Mrs. Frank Annen won contests. Lunch in keeping with the Hallowe'en season was served by the hosts. Next month a meeting will be held with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. TWINS COMING

SIAMESE TWINS

LUCIO and Simplicio Godino, the only male Siamese twins living, will appear at the Ohio theater all next week, opening with a matinee Sunday. The original male Siamese twins were Chang and Eng, middle-aged men brought to America by P. T. Barnum 60 years ago. Lucio and Simplicio were adopted when they were three years old by Teodore Yanco at the time commissioner for the Philippines to the United States, and a millionaire philanthropist. He built a gymnasium on his estate near Manila and it was there the two children, now young men, learned their gymnastic feats.

The Stars Say---

For Sunday, Oct. 26

SUNDAYS horoscope holds splendid indications of the advancement and expansion of all mystical, cultural and singular or unorthodox projects, with recognition or preferment from those in places of position and power. It is an auspicious time for advancing in these directions by wise application and sound plans.

Those whose birthday it is are an the eve of a flourishing year in all mercantile, literary or unusual adventures, with the prospect of launching new projects with good acumen and the assistance of those in places of power. Promotion or favors may be sought by those in employment. The judgment will be found dependable. A child born on this day should be unusually endowed for adventures in unusual lines and should succeed and win honors or preferment in employment or in literary occupations. Secret activities may also engage its attention.

* * *

For Monday, Oct. 27

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is a rather unfavorable one since hostile forces seem to be dominant. There may not only be much agitation and stirring about but affairs generally may be subjected to postponements and frustrating circumstances. All may be dangerously marred by violence, aggressiveness and tempestuous conduct. Personal matters, however, may prove somewhat compensatory.

Those whose birthday it is may not be surprised to encounter many obstacles, delays and frustrations during the year. Sudden and undesirable change is possible and this will be aggravated by indulgence in rash and tempestuous conduct or violent and clamorous actions. A child born on this day should be given early and rigid training in self-restraint and amiability, as its entire career may be spoiled by rashness, aggressiveness, and restlessness.

FROST PLAYS HAVOC WITH LOCAL PRODUCE

Practically All Home Grown Items Disappear from Market Shelves.

Jack Frost's visit to Marion county little more than a week ago worked a decided change in the market trends here during the week. The last of fresh fruits and vegetables were swept from the market by his visit leaving grocers to rely solely on hothouses and outside sources for this produce.

Grocers imported several new items. Oyster plant at 10 cents a head is among these, as is endive, at 20 cents a pound which partially replaces head and leaf lettuce.

Frost also brought out a plentiful supply of parsnips at five cents a pound.

The pear market, one of the last to go under with the arrival of winter weather, was affected this week. Keifer pears, a hard variety that softens after being picked, is the only variety left. Duchess and Bartlett varieties are gone for this season.

Mangoes and pimentoes were among the other items to withstand early cold snaps but which went under with freezes and frosts.

Egg prices have remained comparatively firm and quiet since their sudden upward flurry when the mercury went to the freezing mark. The price range is now 35 to 39 cents a dozen.

PIECE COMFORTERS

Piecing and mounting comforters occupied an afternoon spent by Circle No. 7, Ladies' Aid society of Epworth M. E. church, Thursday in the church parlors. A short business meeting was held. Light refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held Nov. 20.

The Two Wonderful New HOOVERS

are as inseparable in your home Cleaning as the Godino Twins are in all their activities.

Do you rinse just part of the soap out of your hair?

YOU know it is simply ruinous to your hair to leave soap in it when you wash it. It is even more ruinous to your rugs to leave dirt in them when you clean them.

The dirt left in them by half-way cleaning methods is the most dangerous dirt of all, the destructive grit which saws through the nap and wears out the rug.

There is just one way to get out this deep-packed grit. That is to clean your floor coverings with a Hoover.

There are two wonderful new Hoovers offering greatly increased efficiency at no increase in price. Model 725, the finest cleaner ever built, is 25% more efficient than any previous Hoover. Popular-priced Model 575 costs no more than an ordinary vacuum cleaner.

Ask us for a free home trial of The Hoover and its efficient dusting tools. Only $6.25 down; balance monthly. Liberal allowance for your old cleaner.

Labor Leaders Come Out for Coopers's Reelection

Marion Union Officials Included Among Signers of Bulletin Praising Governor's Record as Friend of Workingman.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 25—A bulletin signed by 21 prominent leaders of organized labor throughout the state urging the reelection of Governor Cooper, is in circulation today.

The bulletin features indorsements of Governor Cooper by Harvey McLaughlin, president of the Ohio Federation of Labor; William Jasper, state chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and E. B. Ackerman, state chairman of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen, principal state bodies of organized labor.

Indorsements by Aloot Kummet, president of the Cincinnati Labor Council and Gilbert W. Bert, president of the Columbus Federation of Labor are also quoted. Civic leaders of labor in Marion and other principal cities of the state are included among the signers. Marion signers are Hayes Mayberry, president of the Marion Central Labor Union and Ralph K. Ruppart, secretary.

"Few administrations in the history of Ohio have given such active and vigorous support to the causes in which the workingmen of Ohio are interested as has been given by Governor Myers Y. Cooper," says the bulletin.

Takes Prompt Action

"When industrial conditions all over the United States sagged in the fall of 1929 as result of world-wide conditions, Governor Cooper promptly responded to the call of the president with a plan for the employment of labor and the stabilization of industry which the federal government considered the best produced anywhere in the Union.

Similarly Governor Cooper responded with the utmost possible action for relief in the acute drouth situation affecting many counties in Ohio in 1930.

"Governor Cooper early in his administration took steps to establish a 'Burn Ohio Coal' policy everywhere throughout the state institutions. This was followed by increased production and consequent employment of miners throughout the state. It is a significant fact that Ohio is the only mining state which, in 1930, increased its production.

"His instruction to every director of state departments to insist upon the eight-hour clause in every state contract was a bulwark for the rights of the workers at a time of over-supply of labor.

Workingmen Benefited

"Thousands of workingmen and their dependent families have been benefited at a time of crisis by the insistence of Governor Cooper that workmen's compensation awards must be made in the smallest possible time. Uncontested cases are now decided in less than 10 days as compared with the former record of a 22-day average.

"By bringing payroll audits up to date Governor Cooper has insured a square deal in this important factor affecting workmen's compensation, both to labor and employer alike. A multitude of these payrolls had not been audited for six years and some of them had not been audited for ten years. As a result, there were many cases in which payments to the fund were nowhere near the requirements of the law.

"Governor Cooper believes that there may still be improvements in the administration of the Workmen's Compensation Law, and at the request of labor and employers together, he, some months ago, appointed an advisory committee to study the operation of the compensation law with a view to its improvement."

The bulletin also commends the legislative record of the Cooper administration and its appointments to positions affecting labor, and praises the governor's record as an employer in his private business.

MAN FOUND DEAD

Edward Schultz of Near Ashley Stricken at Home.

ASHLEY, Oct. 25 — Edward Schultz, 84, was found dead at his home three miles east of here this morning by a neighbor. He was sitting in a chair where it is believed he suffered a heart attack. He lived alone.

Surviving are three sons, Joe N. of Ashley, Alfred of Marion, and Lewis of Norton; one daughter, Mrs. Kittie Criswell of Delaware. No funeral arrangements have been made.

LaRue Man Given Road Repair Contract

Contract for furnishing hauling and spreading 300 tons of repair stone on the Copeland road was awarded by Montgomery township trustees yesterday to R. W. Duncan of LaRue on his bid of $700.

Three bids were received yesterday by Tully township trustees on the Lyons road improvement, but the sale was adjourned until this afternoon. Estimated cost of the improvement, which consists of applying rolled macadam, is $12,433. Low bid yesterday was $10,922.

Profitable Living

A SERMONETTE

BY REV. KARL W. PATOW

Pastor Prospect Street M. E. Church

Text Philemon 1 10, 11 "Onesimus,—who in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable"

PAUL the Apostle had a dear friend at Colosse named Philemon Philemon was a prominent and prosperous man. He owned many acres and had a large home, which was the meeting place of the Colossian congregation of Christians One of Philemon's slaves named Onesimus [illegible] Paul had met him in Rome, and under the influence of the teaching of Paul he was converted Thereupon Paul wrote a letter to Philemon in behalf of his spiritual son born while in bonds. It is Onesimus Once you found him unprofitable but now profitable

Just what is meant by that expression, unprofitable That [illegible] that shed no rain in a dry season That [illegible] of fruit trees that bear no fruit

Onesimus was unprofitable and as to say there are other individuals that are unprofitable They make no positive contribution to the life of the race, or of the nation or of the church They may be good in the sense that they are not vicious, vile, or destructive but nevertheless good for nothing, unprofitable

However, Onesimus became profitable Life may be transformed and renewed It may be so utterly changed that a good for nothing will become Onesimus becoming valuable, indispensable profitable

The [illegible] drinking husband who spends his earnings on booze, and [illegible] wife and children treating them shamefully may be transformed [illegible] loving, kind, affectionate husband and father whose very presence and personality brings cheer and blessing

A [illegible] selfish, self righteous hardened Pharisee may be transformed into a passionate, powerful apostle of righteousness, ever pushing forward with a growing enthusiasm, lifting life to a higher level in every place of his endeavor Every age has living examples of men who once were unprofitable but now are profitable

Of all men that ever walked on this old earth none was ever so useful helpful valuable, profitable for the uplift of the human race as Jesus Christ, the Son of the living God And the more completely a human life is surrendered to Him and permeated by His Spirit, that more profitable that life will be here and for eternity. Onesimus became a profitable man when he became a real, Spirit-filled Christian The same is true of Saul of Tarsus, Augustine; Luther, Wesley, Jerry McCauley Moody and many others

"If you desire a new life to begin,
Let Jesus have all of your heart.
If you'd help others to overcome sin
Let Jesus have all of your heart
Just now your all just give o'er,
Just now reject Him no more,
Just now throw open the door,
Let Jesus have all of your heart."

COAL—COKE

Have You Ever Used COKE as Fuel?

Semet-Solvay Coke is a slow burning fuel which may be used in furnace, Heatrola, or base burner. It gives off a steady heat and maintains uniform temperature. Coke is a high grade coal with smoke and soot producing elements removed. It is cleaner and less expensive to burn than coal and will not clinker. Also, it requires less attention.

Nov. 9 Date of Approaching Wedding of Miss Aurelia Wise

ANNOUNCEMENT of the approaching marriage of Miss Aurelia Wise of this city and James E. Parker of Marion was made at a charmingly appointed dinner last night given by Mrs. Wise, mother of Mrs. Ethel Wise, at her home in LaRue. The table was prettily decorated in yellow balloons suspended from the ends of the chairs by blue ribbons and found by the guests as they were seated for the dinner. The table was centered with a large bowl of chrysanthemums and lighted with blue candles in silver holders and tied with yellow tulle, carrying out Miss Wise's bridal colors. Tiny gold baskets filled with yellow candies were given as favors. The hostess was assisted in serving by Miss Jean Anne Thuma and Miss Ruth Sager.

Baskets of fall flowers decorated the rooms where the guests spent the evening with cards. Honors at bridge were awarded Miss Mary Katherine Artopoeus and Miss Marguerite Harruff and at cootie to Miss Jean Anne Thuma and Miss Helen Carr.

Guests included Mrs. Leland Brown of Cleveland, Mrs. F. L. Hoerle, Mrs. Daisy Sipple and Mrs. C. R. Wise of Lorain, Misses Gail Jones, Dorothy Stark, Mabel Midlam, Mary Katherine Arotpoeus, Rheal Woodruff, Marguerite Harruff, and Edna Miller, Mrs. Rachel Kohler, Mrs. G. B. Hewetson, Mrs. C. C. Metz and Mrs. B. M. Sager of Marion, Mrs. Mary Parker of Morral, Mrs. J. C. Thuma, Miss Helen Carr and Mrs. C. W. Rodgers of LaRue.

Miss Wise is employed as cashier with the C., D. & M. Electric Co. Her wedding will take place Nov. 9.

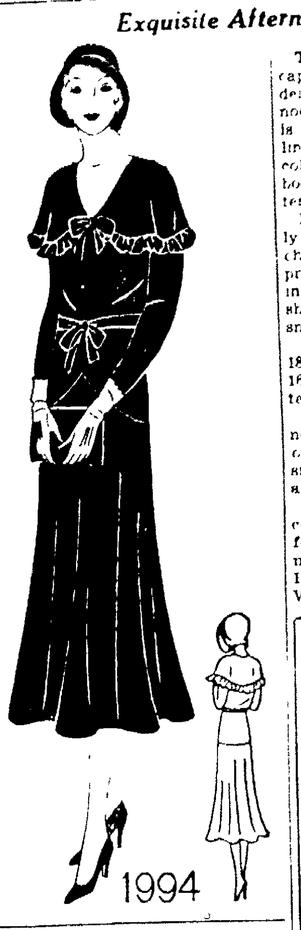
Chic Star Patterns

Practical and Simple

Exquisite Afternoon Frock.



PATTERN 1994

The charm and beauty of the cape mode is ably expressed in this delightful model suitable for afternoon or evening wear. Added grace is given through the narrow ruffling of self fabric edging the deep collar. The flared skirt joins the bodice in an upward point that tends to slenderize the figure.

Pattern 1994 makes up beautifully in flat or canton crepe, satin, chiffon velvet, georgette, etc. A print or a solid color may be chosen in the new brown, green or wine shades, or black. Bows are ultra smart as trimming this season.

May be obtained only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 4¼ yards of 39-inch material.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins carefully wrapped, or stamps, for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE WANTED.

Just Things

BY EDNA S. DUTTON

Hallowe'en

HALLOWE'EN, the one time of the year to give vent to one's urge to mystify folks by donning a mask and togs, other than either one of their regular outfits, and gambol about the town acting "funny." There is this consolation that everybody that is out on parade is in unusually good humor and unless the party goes rough, stays that way. To be sure there will be the usual amount of damage done and if wishes were horses or high powered cars the next days news would be teeming with casualties. And so much can happen real, and imaginary. A large window pane broken by some Hallowe'en prankster's brought the police on a hurried run and just because the telephone chose that particular time to go dead planted the seed that mischief was afoot to say nothing of possible foul play, and kept the household in a state of terror till the wee sma' hours of the morning. You've no idea of what importance you can grow to be or how carefully you unwillingly search your conscience for a cause, just or fancied, which might lead to your beheading at a time like this.

Contests

WHO knows Marion may have a Mary Roberts Rhinehart or an Edna Ferber in its midst. At any rate the Federation of Women's clubs is going to find out so now's your chance. There's no denying we all have an urge of some sort and in our moments of wool-gathering picture ourselves beaming down from our niche in the hall of fame on our less fortunate sister having arrived via the concert stage, the symphony orchestra, the printed page or equally interesting art. Just the same it is going to be something of a lark and it's a pretty safe bet there will be some quite worth while contributions on hand when the bell rings.

• • •

Indoor Sports

WITH all the entertainment, for which there doesn't seem to be quite enough time, some doubting sister opined the other day that she didn't believe little girls chose to "dress up" any more. If they don't, they're missing something. A rainy day provides the best setting and old trunks in attics afford the makings. There's a lure about old umbrellas, too, to say nothing of hats, shoes, coats, etc. To be sure in this day of indoor midget golf and other rapid fire pastimes we may miss the mark a mile but to those of she ouiji board and red plush sofa era, it's still a good, wholesome form of indoor sport.

Canto Singers To Entertain on Lecture-Recital Program

A DELIGHTFUL program has been arranged for the second meeting of the Lecture-Recital club Monday night at Trinity Baptist church when members of the Canto club will be presented as guest entertainers. Assisting on the program will be Mrs. David Walter Evans, soprano a member of the club, Mrs. James C. Woods and Miss Mary Evangeline Lawrence who will be heard in piano and organ numbers and Mrs. R. O. Bresler who will play a group of organ numbers.

Mrs. Evans will be assisted by Miss Elsie Heckenboss of Columbus, violinist, and Miss Loretta Zettler of Columbus, cellist. Her accompaniments will be played by Mrs. Harold K. Mouser. Miss Melvina Summers will play the accompaniments for the Canto club numbers.

The program will open at 8:15 o'clock with three numbers by the Canto club "Ye Watchers and Holy Ones," a Seventeenth Century carol, "Absent," by Metcalf, "Invictus," by Huhn. Mrs. Fuller's selections will be "St. Prelude," from the "Gloria Deo" by T. Tertius Noble, "Meditation" by Lang and "Toccata" by Rogers. Mrs. Evans will sing "My Sorrow" by H. Clough-Leighter. Mrs. Woods and Miss Lawrence will play "Rhapsody" by C. Demarest and "Meditation" by Massenet's "Thais." The closing group will include "Ave to the Virgin," by Ernst C. Rolfe, "The Miller's Wooing," by F. Fanning and "Prayer of Thanksgiving," an old Netherlands song.

A Way of Escape

"WHAT under heaven is the matter with you, doc?"

There was irritation in Grannock's voice and the doctor, gazing at him, could not deny that he had good cause for irritation. But that did not alter the fact that those groping fingers must not be allowed any further over Hallie's face. Dr Lytton would scream like a woman, or so he felt.

Even as he framed the thought, however, the steady calm of the woman shamed him. And it was she who came to the doctor's rescue.

"I think Dr Lytton is tired out. Surely We sometimes forget that doctors need rest—at least I do. It comes as a shock to me when they find out they're only human."

"You don't mind my running my fingers over your face, Rose?"

"Of course not, dear."

By this time, Lytton had pulled himself together.

"I'm sorry to be such a fool, Grannock. The fact is it upsets me to see you at such a traditional old man's' trick."

"I am a blind man," returned Grannock quietly.

"Temporarily," insisted Lytton. "The treatment we gave you failed. Primarily, that was my fault. I—"

"No!" cried Hallie.

The cry had been surprised from her just as a few minutes earlier the doctor's outburst had been surprised from him. This time it was Grannock who unconsciously saved the day.

"No, it was the nurse's fault entirely," he said. "It's futile to discuss it any more but we all three know that that woman, wherever she is, will have my blindness on her conscience to the end of her days."

"Yes," said Hallie steadily. "I think she knows that."

Lytton turned to go Grannock's ears, keener already than Hallie's sensed his intention.

"One second, Lytton. I just want to tell you how I stand. I agree that it would be a terrible mistake for me to resign myself forever to this disaster if there's a real chance of my being saved from it. But is there? I can't invest any more hope in a gamble. Also—" he hesitated and then spoke with embarrassment— "I'm, financially speaking, a poor man."

"Oh, well, you needn't let that aspect of it worry you! A man like Dr Russell, the specialist, looks on your case as an invaluable experience in his career and you'll find his fee is purely nominal. And as for me—well, I've told you how I feel about my share in it and I stick to my opinion in spite of anything you and—anything you say. I shall make it my business to investigate every line of treatment as it is opened up. . . Now that the swelling round your eyes has gone and you're regaining your strength at such a fast rate, I want Russell to have another look at you."

There was a short pause.

"I'm perfectly willing to see Russell," said Grannock, then. "I'm willing to take any steps to recover my sight that you may advise. In the meantime, I'll adjust my life to blindness. Rose will teach me. And if one day I recover my sight—" he seemed to know by instinct where Hallie was standing, for he turned confidently in that direction—"she will teach me how to use that, too. Won't you, Rose?"

"Yes," she promised.

Lytton glanced at her as they walked away together. Against his better judgment, he muttered:

"You're a plucky girl. I'm sorry I nearly gave things away when he felt for your eyebrows."

"It's nothing. There's always the danger of giving something away when more than one of us is with him at a time. That's one of the reasons that I'm thankful Lester isn't here. He's so careless."

"Have you—have you thought any more about his particular proposition?" ventured the doctor.

They had reached the doctor's car and Hallie got in before she replied.

"I had a letter from him during the morning,' she said. "Perhaps you'd like to read it before we start."

The doctor took it with distaste.

"'It's all fixed up, Hallie,'" read Lytton. "'Eleven o'clock on Thursday morning at the municipal building. After that any paradise for two that you can think of—or what about Paris, darling? There'll be a truckful of dough coming when we're married and I can get hold of enough to give us a swell honeymoon. Hallie, you must be sure to be there at 11 or I shall have to come down and see old Socks and formally ask for your hand in marriage. I mean this and I think you know it.'"

There was a lot more which the doctor skipped and at the end a repetition of the threat of seeing Saxely.

"Damn him," said Lytton, comprehensively. "Thursday; that's in three days. What are you going to do?"

"I don't know. I hoped that something would happen today."

"What could happen?"

"I thought perhaps you would help me.'

"I?"

"You see, it's hard for me—" her voice trembled, "to have to invent some reason—some quite unforeseen reason — why I can't marry Saxely in three weeks. It was I who suggested marrying at once and now, to be the one to back out'"

"Assuming you married Grannock as arranged," Lytton said "what would you do if and when he found out who you were?"

"I'd do just what I felt he wanted me to do. Disapear and give him the means of freeing himself of me legally. Or stay with him in any capacity he could endure. Or—or kill myself."

"Piffle'" said the doctor. "Anyway, the immediate problem is Broon. I've been thinking I might go in town and talk to him'

"It wouldn't do the least bit of good."

"No, I don't believe it would," confessed Lytton. He brooded for a moment. Then—"But what are we going to do?" he burst out "If you don't marry Broon on Thursday, he'll come between you and Grannock at once. And if you do marry him, how are you going to marry Grannock in three weeks and stay with him for even the shortest feasible time?"

Hallie roused herself to a semblance of matter-of-factness.

"I can't marry Saxely, of course That, at any rate, is clear. I must find some way of postponing our marriage indefinitely. If you could help me postpone it—as I hoped you might this morning—I shall be eternally grateful."

"But what about Broon?"

"I think I shall have to marry him on Thursday; but I shall try most desperately hard to make some sort of—of a bargain with him."

They stopped in front of Mrs. Bartholomew's and Hallie left him without further word.

At home Lytton found a letter from Dr. Russell, the eye specialist. He had just had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Edgar Downing, who was returning to Baltimore on Thursday. No doubt, Dr. Lytton was aware that Downing was a leading oculist and had already recorded some extremely successful experiments along new lines. Russell had interested him in Mr Grannock's case but, unfortunately, it would not be possible for Downing to travel down to Southcliff. Russell strongly advised that a meeting be arranged in New York.

"Or in Baltimore!" exploded Lytton. "By George, it's an idea! Baltimore!"

He thought again, and fast. Then he threw himself into a stream of activities.

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M. LEWIS

SATURDAY. This is the day a fella that has to go to school waits for, and the whole bunch had been waiting for this Saturday, but it was drizzling again, so we were going to stay in the barn and play till it stopped raining, but Younies and Maggie and Feeble came and they had on rubber coats and rubber boots, and they said this would be a good day to get some chestnuts, so we said we would go to the chestnut woods out past Case Woods with them. Banty said maybe he could get his father's auto, so he hiked out whilst we went over to the vacant lot to gether up our cows and wait for him, and pretty soon we heard him tooting and there he came, and we all piled in and he lit out after the cows, and when they would run off the road acrosst the ditch he would drive the car acrosst the ditch after them, and when he would get stuck and dig in we would all get out and push the flivver out again, and once he made out like he was stuck in a wet and muddy place, and told us to all push hard, but he wunk at me and shook his head, and they were all pushing when all at once he stepped on the gas and the flivver jumped up into the road and the whole bunch fell flat, and they were sights.

The girls and me and Banty were the only ones that didn't get it. I was just stepping on the running board when Frenchy said, "How come you weren't pushing, Thomas Aristides?" And I turned around and looked down at him, and I said "I ain't such an easy mark," and he had the hand that was behind him full of mud, and he brang it around like lightning, but I saw it coming and ducked, and Maggie, the girl that got fasciated on her leg so it wouldn't show, was standing up in the car watching us, and she stopped the whole handful with her face, and she gave a yell and went out of the auto like a bird and landed on Frenchy like a ton of brick, with all of her finger nails working. At first he tried to tell her how it happened, but she was working too fast and too hard, so he tore loose and skun out, and he stopped down the road and stood there watching us while we drove off. I was kinda sorry, but it was all his own fault.

The chestnut woods is a long ways off the road, or it would be skinned, but we opened a fence and drove to it, and there was loads of chestnuts under the leaves, and we took a lot to Younisses house and roasted them, and her mother gave us all some punkin pie and some hot bread and razzberries she had put up, and we had a good time all day without going anywhere. I bet Frenchy was loansome. I am kinda sorry he ain't got no mother. In the afternoon we went out and spent my whole six bits for ice cream soda. I have been lucky this week, but I get washed again tomorrow.

Love's Reawakening

A Wife's Triumph Over Jealousy

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge Prepares for a Secret Journey.

I HAD no compunctions in telephoning Mrs. Cosgrove at this hour for she had told me over an hour of the twenty-four it mattered no more to her than another.

"I am just as likely to be asleep at two in the afternoon as at two in the morning, and I am quite irregular about my waking hours," she said. "The telephone is where Robert cannot possibly hear it, and Mr. Cosgrove is just sufficiently deaf to be undisturbed by it. And don't hesitate about waking me up. I have the happy faculty of going back to sleep again immediately when I have attended to whatever has wakened me."

She had thus urged me when we had agreed that any news of Robert Savarin was to be sent to me not to Lillian. I had been tensely waiting for the end of Robert Savarin's life chapter which it seemed must close at any moment, but no message had come and I remembered with relief the nurse's declaration that if Lillian's anxiety did not kill him it probably would give him strength to live for several days even weeks to come.

An Encouraging Report

"Mrs. Graham," Mrs. Cosgrove's voice came low and guarded but distinct over the wire. "You must be psychic. I was going to call you in the morning. No one is voluntarily awake by breath. Robert is no worse. Instead, he is stronger than he has been for a long time. His physician says that while there is absolutely no hope of his getting well he may be spared to us for weeks, perhaps a month or two. But that is not why I meant to telephone you. Do you remember what we were talking just before you left?"

"Perfectly." I answered with a vivid memory of my protest against the plan of dying Robert Savarin to leave me a sum of money in his will that I might keep it in trust for Lillian.

"Well, I've arranged things," she said competently. "Robert saw reason when I talked to him, and I had everything fixed up yesterday and the day before. I know how terribly busy you are, but if you could possibly come up just for a few hours, everything could be settled and Robert's mind would be at rest. If it weren't for that, you wouldn't need to come, but——"

"Of course I will come," I said. "Will tomorrow morning—or, rather, this morning, be all right?"

"Yes, indeed. Can you stay all night?"

"No, I must get back on the first train possible. I'm not driving this time."

"You must get the very first train then," she said. "There are only two a day up here."

"But there are plenty of West Shore trains to Kingston, and New York Central to Rhinecliff across the ferry," I told her. "I'm going to take the earliest West Shore train to Kingston and then the bus or a taxi up to your home."

"That is a good scheme, but I can better the bus idea. Mr. Train in Kingston likes nothing better than to make a trip up here. He's more reasonable than a taxi, a better driver and will get you here much more quickly than the bus can. He can stay here for dinner also, and drive you back again to Kingston in time for the afternoon train down."

I had vivid memories of Mr. Train's efficiency.

Madge Escapes Publicity

"Thank you. I schuld like that only it is putting you to——"

"You haven't time for that at so many cents a minute,' she told me practically. 'What times does your train reach Kingston?'"

"Seven o'clock.'

"Then you'll be eating breakfast with me at eight," she said hospitably. "Good bye."

I caught my breath as if I had been running as I hung up the receiver. I had not realized how great had been my anxiety that Robert Savarin should will me that large sum of money with the inevitable publicity following such a bequest, until now that I was possessed of Mrs. Cosgrove's assurance that she had 'arranged everything.' I had had visions of Dicky's face when he should read of Robert Savarin's bequest to me, with the newspaper comment which always followed any activity of the famous artist. Now I need dread that particular thing no longer, but I could not help speculating upon the solution which Mrs. Cosgrove had found.

Federal Buildings Program for the Eighth Congressional District

Mr Mouser requested a position on the Public Buildings and Grounds Committee, which deals intimately with public buildings. He was given this appointment and is in a position to obtain public buildings for this district as never before.

He has already secured for Bucyrus an appropriation of $140,000 for a new Post Office building and site. He secured new Post Office quarters for the village of Ridgeway, in Hardin County. In a recent report, the Secretary of the Treasury and the Post Master General have allocated a sum of money for a new building in Galion.

Galion is now in the same position that Bucyrus was, and it only requires a specific appropriation by the Congress to realize Galion's ambition to secure a new public building. He has introduced a special bill to secure for Crestline a new Federal Building which will not only serve for Post Office facilities but, likewise, house the Railway Mail Service. As a result of his efforts, a survey has already been made in Upper Sandusky, looking toward a site for a new Federal Building. He has introduced a bill in the House of Representatives to secure a new Federal Building for Findlay.

Mr. Mouser has endeavored to secure for the farmers of his district, an extension of Rural Mail services and HAS BEEN SUCCESSFUL IN SECURING THIS SERVICE FOR HUNDREDS OF FARMERS IN EVERY PART OF HIS DISTRICT.

Under date of May 19, 1930, Honorable Richard N. Elliott of Indiana, Chairman, commented on Mr. Mouser's services on that Committee, in part, as follows:

"I feel that I want to thank you for the splendid way in which you have supported the Chairman in all of the important legislation which has been before the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds of the House of Representatives during this session of Congress. The day is not far distant when all of the members of the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, will look back with pride to the fact that they had a large part to do with the reconstruction of the buildings in the National Capital and throughout the country.

"It is my sincere hope that your constituents will return you to the House of Representatives, for the reason that my association with you on this great Committee has lead me to believe that you are destined to become one of the leading representatives in the House and your knowledge of proposed legislation will be very helpful to me in the pending program."

Re-elect Mouser and permit him to carry to a conclusion these improvements of the utmost importance to the communities in his District.
